Description

- For fans of moving Christian films
- This adaptation of Ron Hall’s bestseller is made to inspire real change
- You’ll discover how God can use anyone to change the world around them

From the New York Times bestseller comes an inspirational true story. Successful art dealer Ron Hall (Oscar nominee GREG KINNEAR) and his wife Debbie (Oscar winner RENÉE ZELLWEGER) seemingly have the perfect life. But when their faith and family are tested, an unlikely bond with a homeless drifter (Oscar nominee DJIMON HOUNSOU) leads them on a remarkable journey that forges an everlasting friendship.

Same Kind of Different As Me shows how a simple act of kindness can change everything.

Special Features

- Interactive Menus
- Commentary: Michael Carney (Director), Ron Hall (Writer), Alexander Foard (Writer)
- Making Of Documentary

Where the book did good by changing lives through inspiring action, the film crew and cast did one better....They changed lives where they were.

In an interview for the film, Renee Zellweger shared what the Director said they would do whilst filming Same Kind of Different as Me. “Instead of doing that Hollywood thing where you go into a town, and you build a set, and then tear it down and say ‘Thank you very much.’ We’re actually going to use the budget, find a mission that serves, or underserves, the homeless community in Jackson, and we’re gonna transform that place.” The film crew and cast saw the opportunity to live out the message of their movie by transforming a community, providing means to bring hope to the hopeless.

“This poignant true story about a struggling couple’s unlikely friendship with a homeless man shows how tenaciously sincere love can lead to hope, healing and forgiveness.”

Description

- For fans of powerful dramas
- Wings of Eagles tells the story of Eric Liddell as he is held prisoner in a P.O.W camp
- You'll find a story of hope, perseverance, and of choosing to follow God no matter what

On Wings of Eagles is the amazing story of 1924 Olympic Gold-medalist Eric Liddell, a Scottish man who felt the call of God to be a missionary and teach in China. But it would not be without cost.

After the Olympics, Liddell made the journey back to China to teach, despite the raging war and cruelty of the Japanese soldiers. This film is about endurance and, especially, hope, which is the central theme of the film. Liddell undergoes cruelty at the hands of the soldiers and watches others undergo the same treatment. His great victory at the summer Paris Olympics was quite a contrast to what happened to him during World War 2.

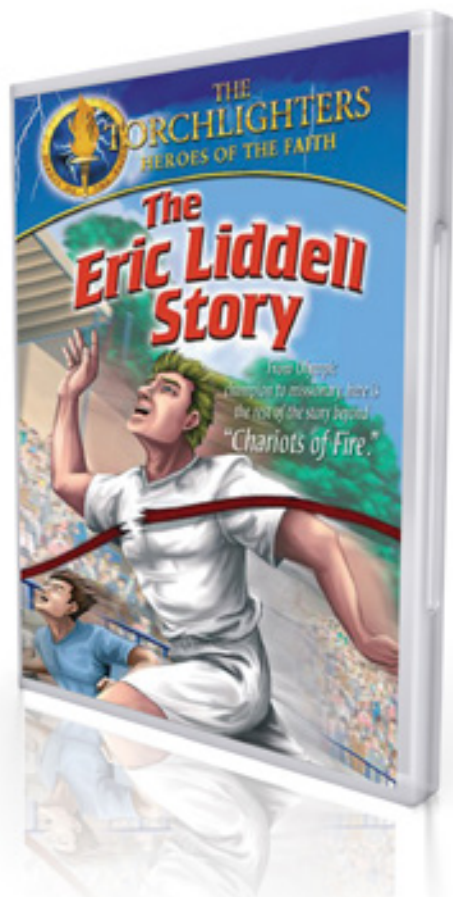

We see Liddell with his wife and daughters early in the film, and while he is away, she delivers a third daughter. He is sorry to leave them to go teach, not realizing the captivity that awaits him and others. He is captured while performing a wedding ceremony when soldiers show up at the church and halt the wedding.

In one scene, Liddell, nearly starved, is forced to race against a Japanese soldier when he falters and falls. Later, in order to secure medicine for a man that is dying, he agrees to race again. He wins this time, but the medicine is withheld from the man anyway.

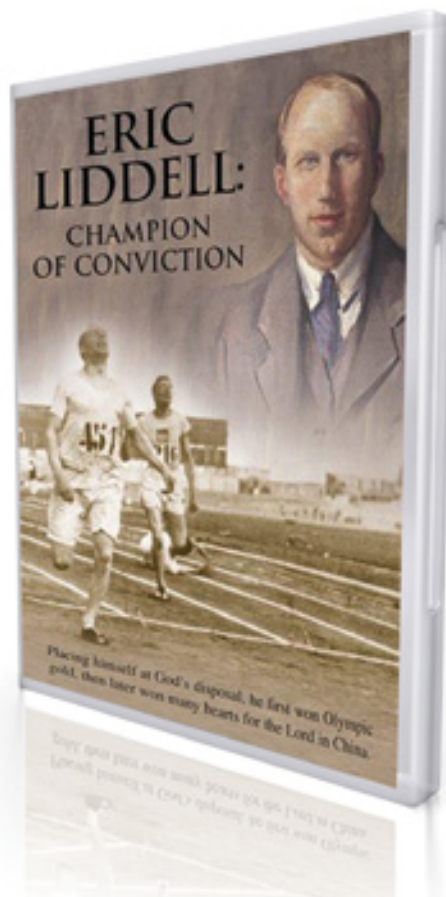

To make things worse, a young boy, who was bringing the medicine while the electrical fence was turned off, is electrocuted when the cruel commander orders it back on, knowing full well the boy is scaling the fence at that very moment.

A great film for Churches, Wings of Eagles also has the Dove Faith-Friendly Seal for ages 12+, making it a great family film too.

Description

– The story of Leesburg Baptist Church’s Christian Care Center and how the church brought its community together to be the hands and feet of Jesus.

What would our world look like if more churches followed the example Jesus gave us to serve the poor and needy? First Baptist Church in Leesburg, Florida, sought to answer that question over 30 years ago and laid the foundation for what is now the Christian Care Center.

Because of the church’s deep commitment to “ministry evangelism,” the Christian Care Center has touched lives, restored families, and seen thousands of broken, hurting people come to know the love of Jesus.

The heartwarming story of the Christian Care Center will challenge pastors, church planters, and church members alike to follow Jesus as agents of change in the world by mobilizing their communities to serve “the least of these.”

Description

“Forty Nights” is a loose and fictional prequel to “Chasing the Star” and begins with the baptism of Jesus. Soon after, Jesus turns to the desert to face thirst, hunger and worse. Satan first appears as a handsome teenager, one of his many forms, and unsuccessfully presents Him with the bodily temptation of food and drink. Satan vanishes for a while, and through flashbacks, we learn of Jesus’ dire love for people as He reflects on various compassionate interactions.

Unabated, Satan, played brilliantly by Taymour Ghazi, taunts and reminds Jesus of a vicious future, overlaying his taunts with vivid picture of man’s degenerate, underserving nature. Still Jesus loves. When Jesus finds and befriends a little lost lamb, we see the care and companionship, but unfortunately, when it wanders and is lost, Satan quickly states a taste for roasted lamb. Satan becomes a mouthpiece for the usual objections to God, and these build upon Jesus’ bodily weakness. At one point, Jesus asks the Father, “Are We wrong?” (He has a loud conversation with himself in the desert.) But after ultimately rejecting Satan, Jesus is attended by Gabriel and states He is at peace with what is to come. All ages will enjoy this well presented family faith film, although older children will be more understanding of the philosophical elements.

Approx. 86 minutes.
